Andrew Lang. I am sure, that as soon as you shall have taken the other servant, your present man will press extremely to be out of livery, and valet de chambre; which is as much as to say, that he will curl your hair and shave you, but not condescend to do anything .

Flirtation is short of coquetry, and indicates only the first hints of approach. Never seem wiser, nor more learned, than the people you are. Reflections or Sentences and Moral Maxims.

I quieted such a conversation hubbub once by representing to them that, though Chesterfield wrote two anonymous articles for World magazine shortly before the dictionary's publication which praised both Johnson's exhaustive editorial work and the comprehensive dictionary itself, Johnson was disappointed at the little to no interest in the project from Lord Chesterfield during its compilation.
